Notice will be issued through the Clearing House this morning of a change in the control and active management of the National Broadway Bank, Broadway and Park place Francis A. Palmer resigned yesterday as President of the bank, and Miles M. O'Brien of the H. B. Claffin Company, who is President of the Board of Education, was selected to succeed him. Vice-President Hudson Hoagland and Director Seth Thomas have also resigned. Charles W. Morse and T. Albeus Adams have been elected Vice-Presidents; Messrs. O'Brien Morse and Adams succeeding Messrs Palmer Hoagland, and Thomas in the di-

The explanation of the change in this old-established and conservative institution is the purchase of a controlling interest by C. W. Morse, who attained fame as President of the American Ice Company, into which the Tammany administration put some of its savings. Mr. Morse resigned from the ice company some time ago. He is largely interested in several other banks. He will presently possess, according to the expectations of his associates, absolutely whole capital stock of the Broad way bank. The controlling interest he bought and paid for in cash, and deliveries of the stock were made to him all day yesterday.

The National Broadway Bank is capitalized at $1,000,000; its stock at the last quotation last week was listed at 310 bid, with none offered. Mr. Palmer, the retiring President, held his office fifty-two years record as a New York bank President, t was through the books of this bank that loss Tweed was proved to have stolen $2,000,000 of the city's money, and his arres was effected just thirty years ago this month. The bank was then a depository of the city's money. The bank has at present more than $2,000,000 in surplus and un-divided profits. It has paid out more in dividends than any other $1,000,000 bank in town. One intimately concerned in its in town. He added that Mr. Morse could be very valuable to a bank by reason of his large interests in important financial enterprises. He said that Mr. Morse was the best bank manager in New York, and that he had show himself to be such in the prosperous history of the Knickerbocker Trust Company, the City Trust Company and the Bank of the State of New York. Mr. Morse has large steamship interests, with his other activities, and, although it has not been generally known, he was the chairman of the underwriting syndicate that floated the last great tobacco combination, which has brought the large English tobacco companies to the feet of their

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Oct. 8.-More trouble is promised for J. He was employed in the accountant department of the New York Central Railroad and resided at Valhalla A Mrs. Ford, who is described as handsome, and whose age is given as 68 years, had lived at the Pierson home for some time. She was known to faith curists as "Sister Ford." Mrs. Ford had been ill for many months. Neighbors of the Pierson family wanted them to call in a doctor, but they refused. Dr. DeHart of White Plains was finally allowed to see Mrs. Ford some days ago. He diagnosed her trouble as cystitis, and pronounced her case critical. He called pronounced her case critical. He called several times subsequently, but was never permitted to enter the house. Mrs. Ford died this morning. The doctor refused to give a death certificate, saying that he had never prescribed for Mrs. Ford. Coroner Russell instructed Dr. DeHart to make a post-mortem examination. The Coroner said that he would hold whoever DeHart went to the Pierson home toy. He said to-night: "I believe that death day. He said to-night: "I believe that death was the result of misdirected attentions and neglect of the ordinary common sense methods of relief for the diseased condition under which the deceased had labored hard for the past eighteen months."

Mrs. Ford had been in bed for the past year, depending upon "divine healing" and prayers to restore her health. Coroner Russell will give the case a thorough investigation.

CANE AGAINST BEET, WITH CHEAP SUGAR FOR THE WEST.

Trust, Which the Colorado Beet Sugar Men Have Been Underseiting, Suddenty Knocks a Third Off Its Price in

Competitive Territory -Far Below Cost War to the knife with the Colorado beet sugar refiners was declared yesterday by the American Sugar Refining Company. The Colorado refiners have been endeavoring to cut into the American Company's trade in the Missouri River territory, and have been making contracts to furnish sugar to all the jobbers and grocers they could reach at prices about 10 points under the American company's price.

The American company's price at Kansas City has been 5.23 cents a pound. Yesterday it was reduced to 31/2 cents a pound. The same cut applies to Missouri River points generally, only applying, however, to sections of the country in which beet sugar is in competition with cane sugar.

The price made is below the cost of raw sugar, which, of course, means that the company will make a loss on its present sales in that section of the country. It is said that the reduction means that most of the best sugar factories will be comof the beet sugar factories will be com-pelled to market their product at a loss if they live up to the contracts they have recently made.

No change was made in American Sugar Refining Company's prices for eastern markets yesterday, and a difference of 1 10 cents a pound held between the price of the raw and the manufactured article. The New York price for raw sugar was quoted at 3% cents a pound for centrifugal.

Annual Report Shows Prosperity-Emplayees Insured.

President S. M. Felton of the Chicago and Alton Railroad has issued his report for the year ended June 30, 1901. Increases in both freight and passenger traffic are reported, and the physical condition of the property is shown to be in a greatly improved condition. The gross receipts from freight traffic amounted to $5,954,141, an increase of $952,122 or 19.03 per cent. The gross receipts from passenger traffic amounted to $2,573.175, an increase of $277,163 or 12.07 per cent.

The Chicago and Alton operates about ,000 miles of main tracks. In addition a short line between East St. Louis and Wann is operated jointly with the Big Four as a double track, each company owning and maintaining one track. NEW YORK CENTRAL'S GROWTH. Expansion of the Operations of the System Within One Year.

The annual report of the directors of the New York Central, which was issued vesterday, shows a remarkable expansion in the operations of that system within the year ended June 30, 1901. This expansion is largely due to the absorption . of the Boston and Albany lines, but important growth in other directions is shown. The gross earnings from the entire system were $66,333,110, an increase over the preceding year of $11,770,158. FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

THURSDAY, Oct. 3. The conspicuous feature of to-day's market was the decline in what may be described as the minor industrial stocks. When speculation is at low ebb, as it is at present, the market for these stocks is very limited, and in consequence comparatively moderate sales of them resulted in materially lower prices. During the greater part of the day the remainder of the list was not much affected by the obvious liquidation in the shares referred to, but in the last half hour of business prices yielded generally and even railway stocks as a rule closed fractionally lower than yesterday. The selling of the less active industrials was attributed to various causes. One of them was the decision of the Court of Appeals rendered last Monday in the case of the American Ice Company, sustaining the anti-trust measure enacted by the Legislature of this State about two years ago. It was also argued that the action of the United States Steel Corporation in publishing a statement of its operations would virtually compel other industrial companies to adopt the same policy, or by not doing it confess that they cannot make statements that would appeal to the confidence of the public. The decline also made vivid to the Street some of the failures that have followed the promotion of industrial enterprises that have been overcapitalized and mismanaged.

In a number of cases the absence of substantial market or of supporting orders resulted in uncovering stop orders, the execution of which accelerated the decline. The greatest net losses sustained were those of more than 6 points in Glucose Sugar Refining, 315 and 5 points in 'nited States Rubber common and preferred respectively, 14% points in National Salt common on sales of only 600 shares, 21, in American Smelting and 41, in International Power. The break in the last named promptly attracted buying, and ir consequence two thirds of the maximum drop was quickly recovered. The movement included Tennessee Coal & Iron Colorado Fuel and finally extended to Consolidated Gas and to Peoples Gas The Chicago specialty was the only active stock that suffered seriously. Sugar Refining sustained a net loss of less than a point on the publication of the news that the company has entered upon a vigorous campaign against the beet sugar pro-Colorado. With the view of controlling the market for their product in their own State and in adjacent sections the Colorado refiners recently made contracts with jobbers to the extent of the full amount of their production at a price about a tenth of a cent a pound below the figures at which the American Refining Company has been supplying a large part of the needs of the territory indicated. With the view presu nably of bringing these audacious refiners to terms the American Sugar Refining Company has reduced its price for deliveries at Kansas City more than a cent and a half a pound to three and a half cents a pound, which is less than the cost of production and which will obviously put the Colorado refiners out of business unless they wish to manufacture at a serious loss. The American company is presumably in a provided the campaign is not a protracted one. In the meantime consumers on the eastern slope of the Rocky Mountains can indulge their appetite for sweets at a phenomenally low figure. The total transactions were somewhat smaller than vesterday and were in the main unimportant. In the early dealings there was a fairly brisk demand for Atchison common and Manhattan Railway and on light transactions St. Paul rose more recovered a small part of the ground it of the gains, however, were wiped out in the late trading, but Manhattan Railway preferred. The trading in the United States Steel stocks was less than normal Agent—One captured.

Albert I Mann, a ticket agent employed by the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company, was attacked and robbed by four highwaymen, early on Wednesday morning, while on his way from the station at Myrtle avenue and Adams street to his home at 180 St Marks avenue. The four men ponneed on him in Flatbush avenue and Nevins street, and after beating him almost into insensibility grabbed his watch from his finger. They evidently expected that he carried the day's receipts with him for they ransacked his pockets.

The robbers made good their escape and it was with difficulty their victim was able to walk to the Bergen street police station at the floating time company's coal traffic.
